CONTEXT

Microinsurance aims at providing access to a set of insurance products and services to people excluded from the financial system. Still at the pioneering stage in developing countries, microinsurance stimulates rural activity through insurance services provided to smallholder farmers and draws up the first stages of a journey towards financial inclusion.

Created in 2008, at the joint initiative of Crédit Agricole’s Directors and the Nobel Peace Prize Laureate Professor Muhammad Yunus, the Grameen Credit Agricole Foundation (GCAF) is a cross-business actor committed to promoting financial inclusion and social entrepreneurship. Investor, funder, technical assistance coordinator and funds advisor, the Foundation supports over 80 microfinances institutions and social business in 37 countries with a €78 million portfolio. Women and rural populations represent respectively 90% and 81% of the 9.2 million people served by the institutions funded by the Foundation.

Launched in 2014, ACRE is one of the pioneer of the microinsurance sector in Eastern Africa. Based in Kenya but also operating in about 5 other countries, it offers crop insurance services to smallholders farmers. ACRE decided in 2018 to diversify its activities to offer advisory services, mainly to international development organisations and insurance players. ACRE is also developing fintech services. Acre wishes to improve its communication and marketing strategy.

In 2014, GCAF invested €400 000 in equity.
